A Brighthouse Income Annuity¹ provides you (or you and another person) with stable, predictable income for life, or for a guarantee period that you choose. Allocate a portion of retirement portfolio assets to purchase the annuity contract in a single payment, and a future income stream is guaranteed.² Here's what you need to know:

- Lifetime Income with a Guarantee Period (5-30 years)³ – Single and Joint
- Lifetime Income with Cash Refund – Single and Joint

Increasing Income Option⁴

On each payment anniversary date, the previous year's income payment amount will increase by the amount you choose, between 2% and 4% (in ½% increments), compounded annually. Optional feature elected at issue.

Early Access Option⁵

After the first payment anniversary, this option allows one partial withdrawal to be taken from the Liquidity Period Value each year during the Liquidity Period (see below). The Early Access Option is standard with all income options, except Lifetime Income. With Lifetime Income, the Early Access Option would need to be elected at issue and would result in a reduced monthly income payment.

Liquidity Period⁶

The Liquidity Period is the length of the guarantee period, up to 30 years. For example, if Lifetime Income with a Guarantee Period of 5 years is selected, the Liquidity Period would be 5 years. If Lifetime Income with a Guarantee Period of 20 years is selected, the Liquidity Period would be 20 years.

Liquidity Period Value

One partial withdrawal (up to 50%) can be taken each year during the Liquidity Period after the first payment anniversary. If a partial withdrawal is taken, income payments will be reduced proportionately during the remainder of the Liquidity Period. For example, if you withdraw 25% of the Liquidity Period Value, income payments will decrease by 25% during the remainder of the Liquidity Period. After the Liquidity Period ends, if the annuitant is still alive, income payments will return to their original amount.
